Message from the Mayor

I am proud to present Shellharbour City Council's Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2023 – 2026. The plan was developed in collaboration with our community and builds on Council's previous plans and achievements.

I want to thank everyone who contributed their ideas and feedback during the development of the new plan. I particularly want to acknowledge the Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Committee whose members provided invaluable guidance through their knowledge and lived experience. Council would also like to thank the many families, carers and disability service providers in our community who support and empower people with disability every day.

I support Council's leadership in improving the lives of our residents with disabilities. For over 32 years, Council has worked alongside the community to make our city more accessible and inclusive through improvements to access to the built and natural landscape of our City.

I am confident that we will become an even more accessible and inclusive place through the implementation of the 2023 – 2026 plan. Incorporating this plan into our corporate planning documents will ensure that access and inclusion becomes a core business of Council that all employees have a responsibility to deliver.

The Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2023 – 2026 will help us all work together to make Shellharbour City a place where people with disabilities and their families are able to live, work and play as equals. I look forward to seeing what we can achieve together as a community over the next four years.

Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Committee

The Shellharbour Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Committee (DAIAC) has been operating for over 32 years. The Committee is responsible for ensuring that Council is responsive to the diverse needs of the community and gives a voice to people within the community affected by access and inclusion. The committee advocates and provides advice and priorities to maximise opportunities for people with disability living or visiting the City.

The committee had a critical role in overseeing the development of this plan and will be actively engaged in the implementation and monitoring of the plan.

Members of the Shellharbour Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Committee (DAIAC)

What the DAIAC told us:

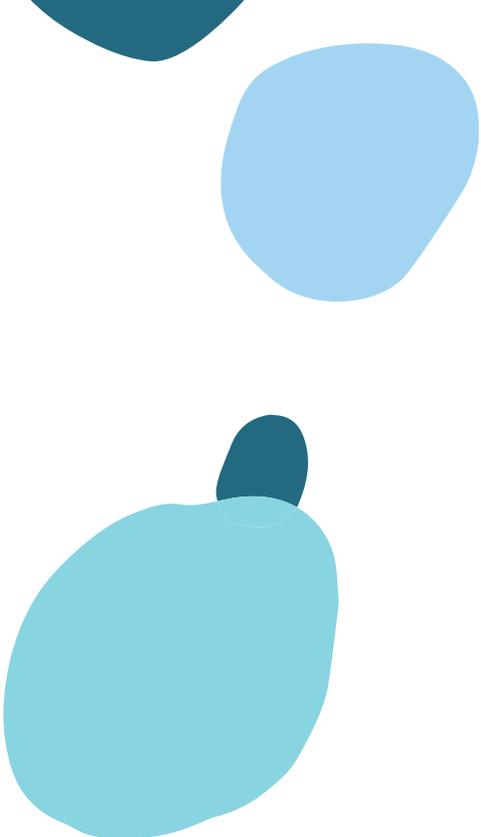

- More needs to be done in Shellharbour to make it more accessible and inclusive
- The whole community benefits by an accessible and inclusive community
- Being consulted makes me feel valued
- In the past, people with disabilities have been shunned, it is good to have a forum where the forgotten people can have a voice and present their views.
- We need to move towards co design and not just consultation
- It is better to engage with people at the design phase of a development than try to retrofit access inclusion at the end of the project.

Access:
is the ability for everyone in the community to be able approach, reach, enter, or make use of something

Reference: Modified from Free Dictionary 2017

Inclusion:
is the process whereby every person who wishes to can access and participate fully in all aspects of an activity or service in the same way as other members of the community

Background

The Shellharbour City Council Disability Access and Inclusion Plan: 2023 – 2026 – An inclusive City aligns to our long-term vision to be an accessible and inclusive City where people with disabilities and their families are able to live, work and play as equals.

We have a vision to be a naturally balanced, vibrant, connected and liveable community that is inclusive, accessible and safe for everyone (Shellharbour Community Strategic Plan 2022-2032)

The plan was developed:

- In line with the legislative requirements from the Disability Inclusion Act 2014 and NSW Disability Inclusion Action Planning Guideline
- To align with the Australian National Disability Strategy
- To meet our obligations under the United Nations Convention on the Right of Persons with Disabilities
- To align with the Integrated Planning and Reporting Framework.

This plan includes a series of actions designed to actively address barriers faced by people with disability. The plan builds on the success of our previous plans, and outlines how we will continue to improve access to Council's facilities and services as well as advocating for improvements across the City.

The plan has been developed through consultation with people with disability, people with lived experiences of mental health conditions and people with caring responsibilities, local disability service providers, peak disability representative, advocacy organisations, the Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Panel, Councillors and Council staff.

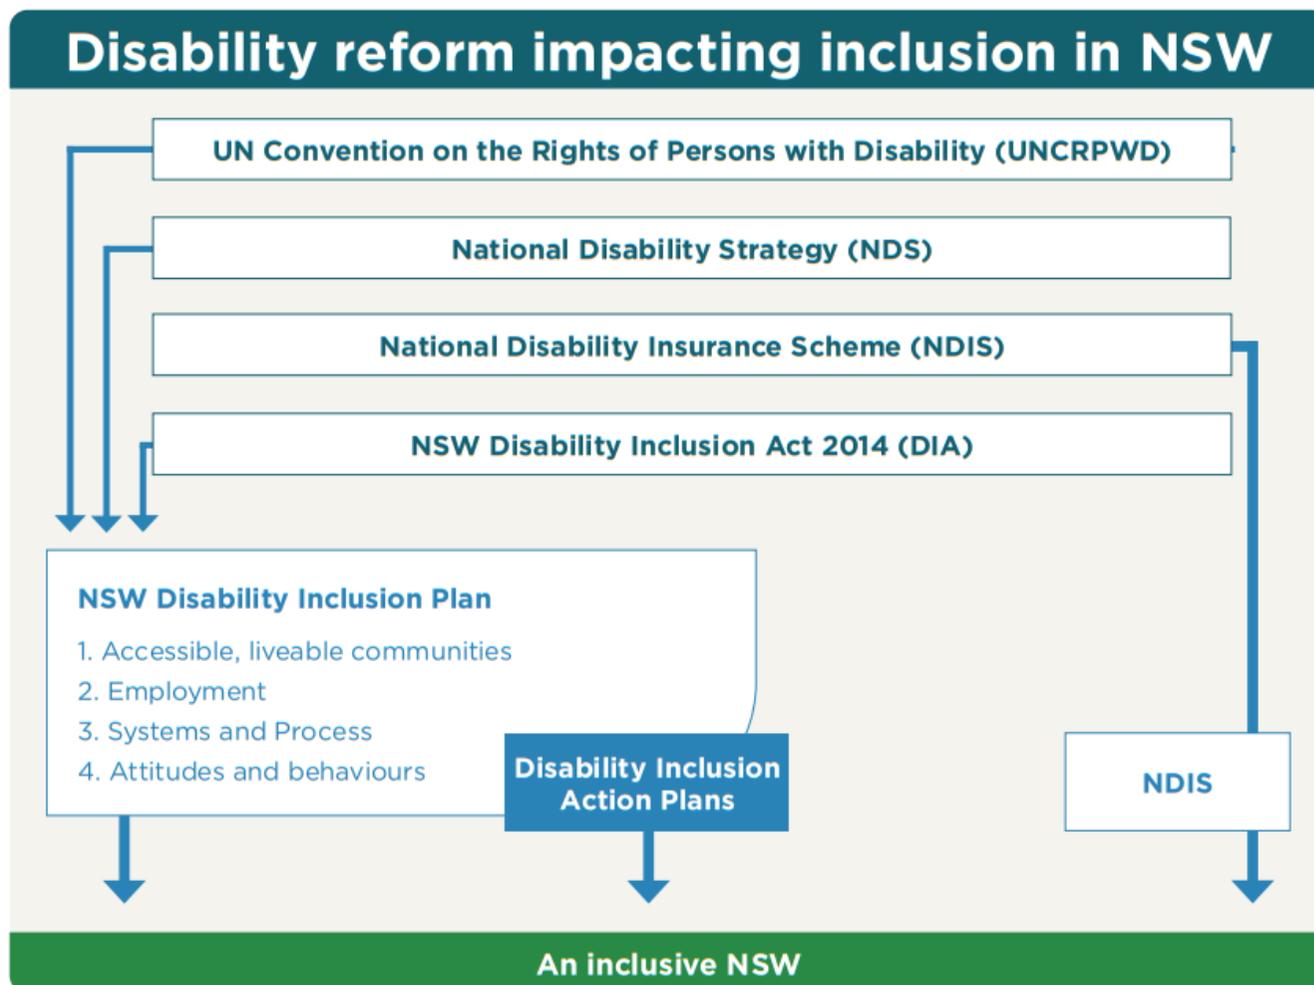

Under the Disability Inclusion Amendment Act 2022, a formal review of this Plan is required by 1 July 2025 with the new plan in place within twelve months of the review (by 1 July 2026).

Legislative and policy framework

There is a range of Commonwealth and State legislation that promotes access and inclusion for people with disabilities.

The NSW Disability Inclusion Act 2014 requires Council to develop a Disability Inclusion Action Plan to remove barriers and enable people with disabilities to participate equally in their communities.

The following diagram shows the key Commonwealth and State legislation that informs the development of local government disability access and inclusion planning.

What the community has told us

How we engaged with the community

From January to July 2022 Shellharbour City Council organised and participated in a range of engagement methods to ask the community about disability, access and inclusion. Each engagement was targeted at finding out the community's thoughts and ideas on any of the four key focus areas of the Disability Access and Inclusion Plan.

These engagements targeted people with disabilities and their carers; service providers for people with disability; schools and preschools; seniors; community event attendees; staff and Councillors.

The methods used included but were not limited to:

- Workshops and pop-up meetings
- A 'Let's Chat' page
- Social media campaigns

Where to from here

Implementation Plan

An Implementation Plan has been developed that lists the priorities for Council over the next four years. The Implementation Plan will be incorporated into Council's Delivery Program and Operational Plan making all staff responsible for the delivery of these actions.

Annual engagement will occur with the community and staff to monitor whether these actions are still priorities. The actions may change in response to the changing needs of the community and other factors.

The Implementation Plan has been set out to match actions across the four focus areas.

Funding

Many actions will be provided or upgraded as part of the usual business of Council and managed as part of the long-term financial management plan.

Some actions may require support from external funding bodies.

Some items identified in the plan are not considered part of Council's core business or they are shared responsibility for the provision of the items. Council will explore opportunities for external providers to deliver these services.

Monitor and evaluate Council's plans and strategies are monitored and evaluated through the Integrated Planning and Reporting (IP&R) Framework. The Disability Access and Inclusion Plan 2023 – 2026 will be aligned with the Delivery and Plan and Operational Plan and reported through those reporting systems.

A range of evaluation measures will be used to gauge performance on listed actions and will include:

- Summary of what has been delivered
- Participants surveys
- Indicator changes
- Community and stakeholder feedback
- Evidence of policy/process change.

Results of actions and outcomes will be reported to the Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Committee at quarterly meetings and to the broader community through the quarterly and annual IP&R reporting. An annual report will be provided to the NSW Minister for Disability Services and a full review will be conducted at the end of the four year plan.

Thank you

On behalf of the staff here at Council and our Executive Leadership Team we would like to thank everyone that contributed to the development of the Plan. With your input we were able to develop this Plan and help Council continue the work on building an accessible and inclusive Shellharbour, where people with a disability can live, work and play.
